

James E. Moore is a graduate of Middle Township High School, Rutgers College at Rutgers University, and Widener University School of Law in Wilmington, DE. While working towards his law degree, he served as a Legal Intern to the Honorable Carol E. Higbee, P.J. Cv., New Jersey Superior Court, and also interned with the Widener Veterans Law Clinic, representing United States Veterans in veterans' compensation cases before the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Prior to and while he was attending law school, Jim was the controller for a property management conglomerate in Wildwood Crest, New Jersey. After graduation, Jim worked as a Judicial Law Clerk to the Honorable Nelson C. Johnson, J.S.C., New Jersey Superior Court.

He is the Immediate Past President of the Cape May County Bar Association, former Mock Trial Coordinator for the Cape May County Bar Association, and a member of the New Jersey State Bar Association. He is licensed to practice in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Jim concentrates his practice in civil litigation, land use, commercial and residential real estate transactions, estate planning, municipal court, and landlord/tenant matters.

Jim and his family reside in Cape May County.

James E. Moore is a graduate of Middle Township High School, Rutgers College at Rutgers University, and Widener University School of Law in Wilmington, DE. While working towards his law degree, he served as a Legal Intern to the Honorable Carol E. Higbee, P.J. Cv., New Jersey Superior Court, and also interned with the Widener Veterans Law Clinic, representing United States Veterans in veterans' compensation cases before the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Prior to and while he was attending law school, Jim was the controller for a property management conglomerate in Wildwood Crest, New Jersey. After graduation, Jim worked as a Judicial Law Clerk to the Honorable Nelson C. Johnson, J.S.C., New Jersey Superior Court.

He is the Immediate Past President of the Cape May County Bar Association, former Mock Trial Coordinator for the Cape May County Bar Association, and a member of the New Jersey State Bar Association. He is licensed to practice in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Jim concentrates his practice in civil litigation, land use, commercial and residential real estate transactions, estate planning, municipal court, and landlord/tenant matters.

Jim and his family reside in Cape May County.